

Current Residents

Seth Ahlden, Pharm.D.

Pharmacy School: Butler University

Clinical Interests: Infectious diseases, internal medicine

Personal interests: Playing tennis and basketball, watching sports, spending time with family and friends

Why I chose Franciscan Health: I chose the Franciscan Health Residency program because of how comfortable I felt during the interview day and during my rotation that I had here as a student. All the preceptors seemed incredibly passionate about the program and their job here and everyone that I met from the staff was incredibly warm and welcoming. The variety of rotations that the program offers, as well as the teaching experience opportunities, also aligned perfectly with what I was looking for in a program.

Anna McGowen, Pharm.D.

Pharmacy School: Manchester University

Clinical Interests: ambulatory care, internal medicine

Personal Interests: traveling, running, baking, spending time with friends and family, playing with my dog

Why I chose Franciscan Health: I chose Franciscan Health Indianapolis because I felt at ease during my interview and could sense the cohesiveness and compassion displayed by the pharmacy team. Their mission and values also strongly align with how I value patient care, and I knew that working alongside well-trained pharmacists would prepare me well for life after residency.

Delaney Wolfe, Pharm.D.

Pharmacy School: Butler University

Clinical Interests: Emergency Medicine and Ambulatory Care

Personal Interests: distance running, traveling, and trying new restaurants

Why I chose Franciscan Health: During my rotations at Franciscan as a student, I loved the supportive work environment of the hospital and the passion that the staff have for ensuring patients are getting the best quality care possible. I chose to complete my first year of residency at Franciscan Health because I knew Franciscan Health would be a place where I would be well-trained and encouraged to grow into a successful and well-rounded pharmacist.
